

“Today we face the darkest evils in the world with nothing more than our ability to forgive, to love, and to be compassionate. And so we allow - no, we encourage the evil to grow. In response to repeated crimes against us, we delicately voice our concerns in politically correct language, reminding each other that an evil person is evil only because of his difficult childhood, or his impoverished life, or his having suffered crimes against his own loved ones - and so his hatred is not his own fault. I say enough! Evil is evil. We have all struggled in life.”

THE GREAT HIJAB HOAX

The recent reporting of a fake hate crime in Toronto (in which a Muslim girl claimed that a man twice tried to cut off her hijab as she walked to school) and the enthusiastic willingness of her school, the police, and government officials to condemn the attack as an instance of Islamophobia demonstrate how far Canada has travelled on the path to submission.

Canada is such a generally tolerant and welcoming nation that some Muslims must turn to story-telling to maintain their charade of victimization. Even while Canadians have shown commendable self-restraint in the face of planned and actual jihad attacks on our country and elsewhere, our leaders are all too ready to shame us for our supposed bigotry. Why? What will be gained by pretending that Muslims face unjust persecution for which all Canadians should express sorrow and take responsibility?

The increasing insistence by some Muslim activists that Canada must commemorate crimes against Muslims and must make 'Islamophobia' a special category of criminal hate is an attempt to declare Muslims a unique class of victims with unusual rights and exemptions. While we condemn any acts of violence against Muslims, we refuse to accept that Canadians owe Muslims apologies or protections not granted to other Canadian citizens.

Canada's famed tolerance is predicated on freedom of speech and on the separation of religion and state. Canada must not bow to Sharia law.

A hijabi hoax that fooled Canada by Tarek Fatah

Why are 11-year-old girls wearing the hijab? We are a society that accommodates all, but not the Swastika or the KKK cone hat, but when it comes to the flag of the fascist Muslim Brotherhood, the hijab, we give it the benefit of the doubt. I have stated empathically that the hijab has nothing to do with Islam as a religion. It is not sanctioned anywhere in the Qur'an, the fundamental text of Islam, or even in the dubious Hadith (traditions) attributed to Prophet Muhammad 100 years after his death. Sad, that at a time when Muslim women in Iran are risking their lives to tear off their hijabs, Canada is becoming a place where little girls are being used to carry the burden of Islamism on their heads.

A phony Islamophobia panic is ruining Canadian politics

As the Toronto Sun's Anthony Furey observed, Prime Minister Justin Trudeau has a long track record of erring on the side of radical Islam, a pattern seemingly born from a larger tendency to frame Muslims as creatures without agency and deserving reverence for all claims of persecution, no matter how dubious or ambiguous. This, in turn, animates many of the man's marquee political promises, from a generous intake of Syrian refugees to eliminating judgmental language from the Canadian citizenship guide to ending bombing raids against the Islamic State, all of which have, at their core, an implied need to redeem the Islam-skeptical character of Canadian society.

Hijab hoax girl, family owe Canadians an apology by Anthony Furey

I thought at the time that everyone falling over themselves was a bit too much. The suspect had not yet been found. Maybe things weren't quite as they were portrayed. And, besides, people are unfortunately assaulted daily in this country and the overly political response to this one implied that assaulting a girl in a hijab was somehow worse and more deserving of censure than assaulting one without.

Wait for it ..... "Muslims fear backlash" over hijab hate crime hoax

See how the establishment media narrative works? When racist, bigoted "Islamophobes" supposedly target Muslims, Muslims are victims. And when Muslims fake "Islamophobic hate crimes," Muslims are victims. Not only that, but when Muslims scream "Allahu akbar" and murder infidels, Muslims are victims. Always and in every situation, Muslims are victims, to be appeased and accommodated in every possible way. Once you understand, we can all lock arms and march together into our glorious multicultural, diverse future.

Canadians don't need a 'National Day' scolding us for being Islamophobic by Barbara Kay

The federal government has been asked by the National Council of Canadian Muslims (NCCM) to declare Jan. 29, the first anniversary of a murderous attack on a Quebec mosque that left six dead and several others injured, a "National Day of Remembrance and Action on Islamophobia." We deplore the horrific Quebec City mosque murders. Nevertheless, an annual day of national atonement sends the wrong message.

Canada: "Islamophobia Day"? Are You Kidding? By Tom Quiggin

The Prime Minister of Canada, Justin Trudeau, is being asked by the National Council of Canadian Muslims (NCCM, formerly known as CAIR CAN) to designate January 29 as a "National Day of Remembrance and Action on Islamophobia." If he does, it is an indicator that the Islamists in Canada have succeeded in their program of political expansion and influence to the point of now being able publicly to manipulate the Prime Minister's Office. In fact, in Canada, "Islamophobia" comes in only fourth behind crimes against Blacks, Gays and Jews. Hate crimes against Muslims have dropped, even as the overall number of hate crimes increase, according to the last Statistics Canada reporting.

If the "Islamophobia Memorial Day" is declared by the prime minister, it is a clear "indicator and warning" on how far an Islamist mentality has been developed within the corridors of government. It also will further confirm how deeply Prime Minister Trudeau has continued in his support the Islamist cause on every occasion since his election as a Member of Parliament in 2008.

Quebec Opposition Rejects Call For "Day of Action on Islamophobia"

Coalition avenir Québec and the Parti Québécois – Quebec’s main opposition parties – rejected a call by the National Council of Canadian Muslims (NCCM) for a National Day of Remembrance and Action on Islamophobia. Parti Québécois says the vague term “Islamophobia”, is too controversial, and points out there is already a designated international day for the elimination of racial discrimination, observed annually on March 21.

The federal government is still “in reflection” on the idea of making the anniversary of the attack on a Quebec City mosque a day of action on Islamophobia, Prime Minister Justin Trudeau said Thursday. Saying he wants to find the right way to commemorate the tragedy, Trudeau added the government doesn’t want to spark a backlash against any minorities, either. “We want to avoid the kind of backlash we sometimes see when we launch such actions because unfortunately there is still a small, intolerant minority.”

Stay vigilant about Sharia in Canada by Candice Malcolm

Jihadist terrorists seek to destabilize our society through acts of war; meanwhile non-violent Islamists — driven by the same dogmatic ideology — work to quietly advance their cause and spread the doctrine of political Islam across the West. Examples of Islamist practices seeping into our society are all around us, and perhaps the most concerning is the encroachment of Sharia Law.

Trudeau's love of dictatorships is showing again at home by Father Raymond J. de Souza

Freedom of speech includes the right not to be coerced into expressing an opinion. And the right not to have an opinion. It would be equally wrong if the prime minister insisted that businesses filing for tax rebates had to express their support for his tax policies. Or that applicants for environmental retrofit grants affirm the government's climate policy. It is a more serious violation when the government demands assent by religious groups to positions contrary to their faith.

Dear Mr. Ambassador, why is Canada funding anti-Semitism?

There is substantial evidence regarding UNRWA staff ties to Hamas and other unsavoury groups; reams of highly credible information (much of which has been reported by NGOs and the media) alleging that donations to UNRWA and the Palestinian Authority have been used to support incitement to violence against Israelis. There was and is ample evidence of UNRWA staff using social media to spread anti-Semitism and incite terror attacks. “Where is the program for Jews? Christians? Hindus? Government internships for Muslims and Muslims only. This is the very definition of sharia law, special superior rights for a ‘superior’ class”. The idea that Muslims in Canada face wholesale persecution, discrimination and harassment is a fiction, based on no facts whatsoever, and designed solely to procure special privileges and accommodations for Muslims — like this program. Kristen Pyszczyk, writing for the CBC, does not go so far as to suggest one- or two-child policies of the sort which have led to baby girls being aborted or left in the street to die in Communist China, but suggests that public vilification of the traditional family could do the trick just as well. "Shame is a powerful tool for changing behaviour," she notes, suggesting that girls who are "groomed for motherhood from a very early age" should be subjected to "arguments for alternatives".

MULTICULTURALISM

The Scourge of Multiculturalism

The argument made by immigration and refugee enthusiasts, namely that the Western democracies were founded and settled by immigrants and therefore should continue to welcome newcomers, is valid only to a point. The plight of European nations like Germany, Sweden, England and France, sinking into a morass of civil unrest, criminal violence and legal subversion, should be an incontrovertible object lesson that multiculturalism is the devil's gift to a forgetful and undeserving people. Grace under current circumstances may be hard to achieve, but courage and honesty are indispensable if we are to avoid or at least mitigate on our own shores the European imbroglio and the fate of a dying continent.

It's Time to Bring the Southern Poverty Law Center to Justice

There are many powerful forces operating today across the nation to divide the American people and silence opposing views. One of the most active of these efforts is the Southern Poverty Law Center (SPLC). There are two very serious reasons why the SPLC is in many ways more dangerous than other organizations that are fueling the flames of the far left radicals who use violence and lies to stop honest political debate. First, the SPLC has contracts with the federal government, specifically the Department of Justice (DOJ) and the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), serving as advisors to help define what a domestic terrorist or hate group is, even helping to write official policy for this agency of our government. Here are just a few examples:

FBI, DOJ argue for dismissal of suit about their foreknowledge of Garland, Texas jihad attack

This case should not be dismissed. I was co-sponsor and co-organizer of this event and spoke at it, and was there when the jihadis began firing. And this case is bigger than Bruce Joiner, which is not to say that his case is not of cardinal importance. The FBI clearly knew the attack was coming (although it didn't bother to inform us or our security team), as the FBI agent was right there, following behind the jihadis, whom he had encouraged to "tear up Texas." But even though they knew the attack was coming, they didn't have a team in place to stop the jihadis. They had one man there, and one man only. The jihadis were not stopped by FBI agents, but by our own security team. If the jihadis had gotten through our team, they would have killed Pamela Geller and me, and many others. (They would no doubt have loved to kill Geert Wilders, but he left before they arrived.)

DONALD J. TRUMP: ONE YEAR IN

It's a year since Trump was inaugurated and, amazingly, the world hasn't ended. The West hasn't been plunged into 1930s-style extremism, the American constitution hasn't been trampled under goose-steps, and Muslims haven't been marched off to camps. That's what we were told would happen. Cast your mind back to early 2017: liberal circles fizzed with warnings of a 'New Hitler', even whispers of another Holocaust. This spectacularly irresponsible posturing against Trump had two terrible impacts. First, it trivialised historic events like the rise of Nazism, chasing historical accuracy and reason itself out of political debate. And secondly it made criticising Trump more difficult. The Trump of Guardianistas' rash nightmares came to dominate public discussion, making the real Trump – the man who is politically problematic but not Hitler – more difficult to see, and analyse, and oppose. This year, can we please park the shrill historical illiteracy and get back to grounded debate?
