Darkness Falls in Windsor, Ontario

Sara Anne Widholm, 76, died at Windsor Regional Hospital on Saturday, Dec. 15 but this was not a mere obituary. On October 8, 2017, while out for a walk on the Ganatchio Trail in Windsor, Widholm was the victim of a “vicious” and “unprovoked” attack by Habibullah Ahmadi. If you can kill a disbelieving American or European,” Adnani’s order stated, “especially the spiteful and filthy French – or an Australian, or a Canadian, or any other disbeliever from the disbelievers waging war, including the citizens of the countries that entered into a coalition against the Islamic State, then rely upon Allah, and kill him in any manner or way however it may be.”

Surrey, B.C., man accused of running terrorist training camp seeks PM's help

A man accused in a media report of training Sikh terrorists at a training camp in British Columbia has written to the prime minister asking for help to clear his name. The Times of India reports that Indian intelligence agencies have alerted the Liberal government that pro-Khalistan extremists near Mission, B.C., plan to carry out strikes in Punjab.

Justin Trudeau's terrible new election rules will limit citizen activism

Prime Minister Justin Trudeau's government recently passed more than 200 pages of dramatic changes to the way Canadian elections work. Among other things, the new rules will further restrain the degree that Canadians can exercise their constitutional rights to free political speech and activism. Such regulations were passed with the standard progressive smugness that heavily regulating political speech and activity in the name of fairness and equality is unambiguously virtuous. Righteous self-confidence, however, does not negate the practical consequences of this fundamentally illiberal exercise of state power.

Synagogue bullied by so-called "Anti-Racism Activist"

The overwhelming irony of this article will write itself, as a conference set to deal with the issue of how threats of Islamophobia hinder the ability for free speech had to be relocated due to threats of Islamophobia. This story would be funny, if there wasn't something much more sinister behind it.

On December 9th, Rabbi Grover was contacted by email by Bernie Farber, chair of the Canadian Anti-Hate Network (CAHN), who demanded to know why Beth Tikvah would let such an event take place. The CAHN was set up to monitor far-right groups across Canada and claims to be inspired by the Southern Poverty Law Center (SPLC) in the U.S.

M103 Alive and Well in Toronto

Beth Tikvah Synagogue in Toronto was planning on renting their space to the organization 'Canadians for the Rule of Law' for a conference entitled 'The New Taboo: Respect for the Rule of Law in Canada' to discuss topics of radicalism within the Canadian community. Their topics are to cover:

- the radical left;
- radical Islamists; and
- the radical right within the following framework:

The synagogue has since decided against hosting this conference after correspondence from Karen Mock, president of the progressive Jewish group JSpace Canada. She argued that there would be much negative media attention due to "the Islamophobia and bigotry associated with some of these groups and individuals."

RCMP Considering Eliminating Aptitude Tests, Vision & Hearing Standards, And Allowing People with Criminal Records to join The Force – at the Urging Of 'Gender-Based Analyst'

The RCMP is now considering eliminating aptitude tests, scrapping vision & hearing standards, and allowing people with criminal records to join the force. And the main reason? To meet 'staffing' and 'gender and inclusion' goals. At what point will people wake up and realize that political correctness has gone way too far, and is now a mental sickness infecting everything in our society? The RCMP is about keeping people safe and fighting crime and terrorism, not meeting 'gender goals,' 'inclusion goals,' or lowering basic standards of competence and physical ability.

GLOBAL COMPACT

Belgium: Nationalists surge following collapse of government over UN Migration Pact

Amid violent protests, the Prime Minister of Belgium resigned after a no-confidence vote over his support for UN migration pact. Now, "support for Belgium's two largest Flemish nationalist parties, who are both anti-mass migration, has exploded after the collapse of the government due to disagreements over the UN migrant pact." People are starting to realize that they have been duped by a movement that in the midst of the advancing global jihad is trying to force an open-door immigration policy upon its citizens, without any plan for dealing with national security.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH

Let's make free speech the great cause of 2019

Who would have thought that in 2018 it would be deemed controversial to uphold the principle of free speech? Whatever else the events of this year have taught us, it is now clear that the fundamental human right to express oneself as one sees fit is under threat. With both major political parties supporting further hate-speech legislation and varying degrees of press regulation, and with Silicon Valley tech giants routinely censoring their users, the time is ripe seriously to consider how we might retaliate against the creeping authoritarianism of our age.

8 Tips to Defend Against Censorship & Violent Repression by Leftists

These left-wing insurgents are actively working to censor, silence, intimidate, and destroy any individual, journalist, blogger, or organization that stands in the way of their George Soros funded open borders global government plans. Please give my warnings and recommendations close inspection because the wealthiest people and corporations in America, along with their ground troops, are coming to ruin and wreck your families and marriages, friendships, education, businesses, jobs, and livelihood, and their terrorist groups like ANTIFA are forming armed cells and openly discussing ambushing and assassinating you on Twitter and Patreon because of your political creeds and views. ANTIFA openly plots violent revolution against you on American soil with full protection and privileges from these biased corporations.

Anti-blasphemy laws, free speech and religious freedom

Proponents of speech restrictions argue that defamation of religion constitutes a human rights violation, but this is sophistry which assigns inalienable rights to concepts instead of the people who espouse them. And although anti-blasphemy apologists may claim concern for the integrity of all faiths, their lack of regard for Judaism and western religions is glaring. In fact, those who discourage critical analysis of Islam (usually progressives) generally show little respect for Jews or Christians – either in the west or in Sharia states where they and other religious and ethnic minorities are marginalized and oppressed.

Freedom of speech is taken for granted in western society, but it is an essential right that is necessary for the perpetuation of constitutional democracy. Unfortunately, it also seems to be an endangered species under stealth attack by extremism masquerading as diversity and tolerance.

GOOGLE

Apple kills app for politely suggesting alternatives to homosexuality

Walking a tightrope of super-politeness might keep the crocodile focused on others for a while, but, as Living Hope Ministries is discovering, even super-polite disagreement will only infuriate the LGBT movement's dictators. Nor will cowed silence satisfy them. No, you need to don your pom-poms and cheerlead for sodomy, promiscuity, and self-mutilation in pursuit of the "sex change" delusion before you'll be left alone. Once you're deconstructed and built back up in the LGBT image, then maybe you'll get some peace – maybe, if the enforcers decide not to obliterate you pour encourager les autres.

Google approves app to report incidents of Islamic blasphemy

Apple may have forbidden a Christian app regarding homosexuality, but its Silicon Valley neighbor and smart phone competitor Google is fine with offering an app enabling Muslims to report blasphemy to the police. Perhaps it has escaped the notice of the powers that be at Google that Islamic doctrine is even harsher toward homosexual acts than Christianity.

AROUND THE WORLD

ISRAEL

The speech that put the United Nations to shame

The U.N. is supposed to be helping the world, not hurting it. But they are so twisted. They criticize democracies like Israel and ignore violations of human rights and international law. The U.N. cannot even seem to condemn terrorist organizations like Hamas. Listen to Professor Anne Bayefsky debate at the Oxford Union. Sharing the truth is sometimes so simple. The U.N. is failing, and she tells you why.

SYRIA

Pros and Cons of the US pullout from Syria

One of the consequences of the U.S. pullout from Syria is that Trump will finally abandon Obama's pro-Iranian policy in Syria. True, he isn't replacing it with an anti-Iranian policy in Syria. But all the same, by abandoning a pro-Iranian policy in Syria, the move will lend some coherence to the U.S.'s overall strategy for countering Iran's growing power and influence in the region and worldwide.

THE "JUST IN CASE" FOREIGN POLICY (my quick and dirty notes) by Valerie Sobel

An open letter to all those emoting about Trump's pull-out from Syria and partial pull-out from Afghanistan. The only reason American boots were on the ground in the land of Apocalyptic prophecies is ISIS. Now that this goal has been reasonably accomplished by Trump, what exactly are the tax payers' dollars doing in Syria? No one wants to pretend that ISIS can't rise up again, but that would be almost next to impossible considering their current financial state. Besides, we're talking about Islam, the next Caliphate-happy bunch is already jumping at the bit. And after them, they'll be another. And then another. And so on.

The Man to Make the British Establishment's Head Blow Off

When it comes to interactions per story, Robinson is the runaway winner. Over the whole year, Robinson stories generated an average of 1,164 interactions each. That's more than double the next political figure on the list: arch Brexiteer Jacob Rees-Mogg, who gets 660 interactions per story. Next is Nigel Farage with 550, then Corbyn with 326 interactions per story, then Johnson with 245, followed by May with 177.

Video: London's Bollards of Peace

I'm sick to death of this "lone wolf" notion. How can you be a lone wolf when your country of origin celebrates after every death committed against a non-Muslim by a Muslim? How can you be a lone wolf when organizations come out after terrorist events and claim credit for it?

I wanted to make sure this country feels the full impact of what it has covered up and what it is still covering up. And that is the rape and

UK Welcomes Extremists, Bans Critics of Extremists

While the UK government continues to allow extremist clerics such as Muhammad Naqib ur Rehman and Hassan Haseen ur Rehman to enter the UK despite their track records of supporting the murder of people merely suspected of having blasphemed against, or apostasised from, Islam, it develops an ever-growing banned list of people who are not Muslim but who have been critical of aspects of Islam. It is almost as though the UK government has decided that while extremist clerics can only rarely be banned, critics of such clerics can be banned with ease.

UNITED STATES

Ignore the hawks, Trump's Syria withdrawal is bold and brave

For those of us living in the real world, Trump's decision to remove the military from the Syrian quagmire is the bravest and most logical decision in the Middle East by an American president since Eisenhower ordered Britain, France and Israel to withdraw from Suez. After all, US troops – unlike those from Russia, Iran and Hezbollah, who were invited to fight Isis by the Assad regime – were stationed there illegally, and served no discernible strategic American interests. Worse, they were fighting an Islamic State partly armed by the Obama administration, which had recklessly backed other Sunni terror groups in an effort to topple President Bashar al-Assad.

Revealed: Khashoggi Was a Qatari Asset

Although the brutality of his death at the hands of the Saudis is something to make the entire free world shudder, it should be noted that the Saudi's viewed Khashoggi essentially as a foreign agent threatening the very existence of the current regime. Indeed, as seen by the chorus of screeching voices from the political Left who tried to use the murder to break up U.S.-Saudi relations, end U.S. arms sales to Saudi Arabia, depose Crown Prince Muhammad bin Salman as successor to the kingdom's throne and force the Saudis to surrender to Iran in Yemen, that assessment was quite on the mark.

A European Spring

Europeans are in revolt against the political and moral order and it's wonderful. People are hungering for change, for the alternative that we have been told for 40 years does not exist ('There is no alternative', in Thatcher's infamous words). These hungry years, of which 2018 has been the hungriest yet, should be welcomed, and celebrated, and built upon. It is an open question as to who, if anyone, will shape and lead this hunger.

COP 24 just concluded in Poland. Nearly 23,000 climate saviours attended this 24th annual climate carnival.

Every year, plane-loads of concerned busybodies fly to some interesting new location to spend tax dollars on a well-fed 12-day holiday. They concoct plans to ration and tax the energy used by real workers, farmers and families back home.

Few delegates arrived by bicycle or solar-powered plane – a fleet of at least 100 commercial, private and charter aircraft brought them at a cost estimated at US$57M. When the costs of hotels, ground transport, food, entertainment, air conditioning and office services are added, the bill is likely to top $500 M.

The Other Intersectionality: Victims of Islamism

The "intersectionality" promoted on campuses and beyond by Hamas/SJP and their fellow travelers seeks, in pursuit of its anti-Israel agenda, to distract attention from the Islamist onslaught, its ongoing savaging of populations in Africa, Asia and America, and the alliances with Israel formed by its victims. In doing so, the intersectionality of the campuses has become, in effect, an enabler and abettor of Islamism's depredations, including mass murder.

Liberalism and Zealotry

The barbarians have entered the gates and now seek to expel us. There is no reasoning, compromise, or debate. It was never about what was right, true, or good. It was always about power. Having a clearer idea of liberal motives may not help us regain our country, but it can liberate us from the futility of arguing with someone who has so little regard for truth.

Descent into Hell: Identity Politics as the Gateway to Islamic Theocracy

Nazism and Marxism of the 20th century cast mankind into hell. In the 21st century, their offspring welcomed a new Golem: Islam. In my opinion, the followers of this new ideology are yearning for the triumph of a global caliphate, consciously and subconsciously. Subconsciously, because they need a doctrine robust enough to keep their superficial and feeble souls from self-destruction in a complex and incomprehensible world.

Consciously, because due to public relations and apologetic abilities, only Islam, as a universal world system, will ensure their existence — albeit the miserable existence of the "capo," but still an existence. Nobody needs them anymore.

Jihad: Islam's Engine

To cut to the chase, we need to eliminate some disinformation and myths about the "war on terror." We are not fighting terrorism. We are engaging in an ideological battle between freedom, conservatism, democracy, individual rights, capitalism, and "Christian" ethics and Islamofascism, communism-socialism, theocracy, and tyranny. In short: We must begin to declare Islam evil, not from a sectarian perspective, but from a universal, humanist one. Every encroachment of Islam as a religion must be rejected and discouraged by all people everywhere.

EMP: Not if, but when

As the chief of staff of the congressional EMP commission for 17 years, he notes a number of concerns. Aircraft would fall from the sky and automobiles would fail to start. Water would no longer be available in homes. "We only have enough food to feed 326 million people for 30 days and the food would begin to spoil within 72 hours."

Should a nationwide blackout occur for as long as a year, the EMP commission reports "90% of our population could starve to death, die from disease and societal chaos, and collapse."

HALAL – Islam's Global Conquest

If you think that Halal is just about labeling food for Muslims in the manner of Kosher labeling for Jews, it is time for you to expand your horizons. Halal will be a way to conquer the world according to Bosnian Grand Mufti Mustafa Cleric who was quoted in the Pakistan Daily Mail.

- "Conquer the world through the Halal Movement as Halal means pure and hygienic and the non-Muslim world will have no choice but to accept it."

- “The Halal Certification Movement has the strength to lead Muslims to rule the global economy, as food and other services are the basic need of every human being.”

Hijab in the House by Bruce Bawer

Most Muslims who have been elected to office in the West have made it obvious enough, by word and by action, that they are, indeed, true believers, whose principal loyalty is to their faith and whose primary goal as so-called “public servants” is to serve the long-term jihadist objective of bringing the West into the House of God. And for voters to overlook this alarming reality in the name of multicultural harmony is, to put it mildly, short-sighted -- and, to put it not so mildly, suicidal.

New EU rulebook advises to avoid the word “man” and say “humankind” instead of “mankind”

The members of the European Parliament have just received a new rulebook. Officials and MEPs were given their “English Style Guide: A handbook for authors and translators in the European Commission” in which they are given rules for writing, including now a guide for gender neutrality. In other words, what words they can and can’t say, they have been asked to refrain for the “generic use of man” when they speak. Members of the European parliament reacted to the warnings of using the word ‘man’ in the gender neutrality rulebook. They called them “absolute b*lllocks”.

Frontpage Magazine's Person of the Year: Sarah Huckabee Sanders

No matter what the media throws at her, from insults to death threats, Sarah Huckabee Sanders stays focused and remains on message. The interruptions, tantrums and yelling by the media mob have yet to rattle her. She may have the Secret Service at home protecting her and her family, as she pointed out, "a Hollywood actor publicly encouraged people to kidnap my children", but she's never let it stop her.

In a hateful environment of utter indecency, she stands for the simple decency of defying the tide of hatred that washes ashore at every gathering in the James S. Brady Press Briefing Room. And she does it with admirable dignity and fortitude.

And that's why Sarah Huckabee Sanders is FrontPage Magazine's Warrior Person of the Year.

AND FINALLY:

To all our members, supporters and friends:

We at ACT! For Canada pray that your Christmas was filled with love, friendship and joy. We also pray that our friends in the Jewish community had a blessed Hanukkah.

Every year, may this holiday inspire us to increase our awareness of and gratitude for the many blessings we have been given as well as the enormous responsibility we have to serve and aid others.

And may we, as brothers and sisters in humanity, use this day to grow closer to each other and to our Creator, and seize this opportunity to recommit ourselves to the universal values of human rights, individual liberty and to the sovereignty of our country.
