A REMINDER OF WHAT FREE SPEECH MEANS

By Brendan O’Neill
Editor: Spiked

It means Ross Greer, the Green member of the Scottish parliament for West Scotland, has the right to call Winston Churchill anything he likes. A white supremacist, a mass murderer, a shithead, anything. It means Mr Greer should suffer no censorship or hardship simply because he holds and expresses these views. He should not be restricted from speaking in public and he should not lose his job. We should hope that student officials don’t add him to any kind of blacklist forbidding him from speaking on campus, as they have done with people on the hard right. Greer must be free to rage against Churchill.

It means people on Twitter have the right to like 'transphobic' poems, to share 'transphobic' poems, and to write 'transphobic' poems. Nobody should be censured for expressing scepticism about the trans ideology. They shouldn't lose their jobs, they shouldn't be harassed, and they shouldn't be assaulted just because they think a man can never become a woman or because they take the piss out of trans women's Adam's apples.

They absolutely should not be questioned by the police, as happened to one tweeter last week after he committed the speech crime of liking a trans-sceptical poem. Freedom of speech means the police should never, ever involve themselves in matters of expression.

It means Graham Linehan has the right to refer to trans women as 'he'. It means so-called TERFs (trans-exclusionary radical feminists) have the right to 'deadname' trans people — that is, use the old male names of people who have since become trans women. No 'TERF' should ever be questioned by the police on suspicion of 'hate crime' simply for mocking the trans ideology, as has happened in recent months. It means trans people have the right to fling the insult of TERF at anyone they like. It means trans people have the right to protest at 'TERF' events, though they should not seek to shut such events down.

Freedom of speech means Tommy Robinson has the right to gather his supporters in public and tell them there are too many Muslims in Britain. And it means radical Islamists have the right to visit campuses and argue that gay sex is disgusting and kafirs are sinful. It means racists have the right to publish their bunkum. It means anti-racists have the right to protest. It means drill artists have the right to perform music without being given suspended prison sentences, as outrageously happened last week. It means those tragic men's rights activists should have the right to come to Britain and tell angry 25-year-old virgins how to pull women. It means cranky Pakistani Islamists should have the right to come here and spout nonsense about women's position in society. It means Lauren Southern should have the right to come here to talk about how much she hates Islam. It means the UK should have no speech-based or ideas-based restriction on who may come here, though of course the UK can choose to keep out criminals and people involved in violent activities.

It means pro-Israel students have the right to organise public debates without being threatened and hollered into silence. It means pro-Palestinian activists have the right to organise public demonstrations at which they brand Israel the 'New Nazis' and refer to the Gaza Strip as 'the new Warsaw Ghetto' and utter other offensive historical illiteracies. Freedom of speech means the freedom to be offensive and historically illiterate.

This is what freedom of speech is. If you have defended the freedom of only some of the people mentioned above, then you are doing it wrong. You are not defending freedom of speech at all. Freedom of speech means the biggest Churchill fans defending Ross Greer's right to insult Churchill, trans activists fighting for TERFs' right to offend, and Corbynistas standing up for Tommy Robinson's right to address students on campus. When those things happen, we'll know that free speech is in rude health once more.

CANADA

Canada's resettlement of (mainly Muslim) refugees (and many just pretending to be) is now the highest in the world for first time in 72 years

Are Muslim refugees a threat to Canada? With the recent arrest of a teenage Syrian Muslim refugee who was close to carrying out a terrorist bombing attack in Toronto, obviously, many of them are. Ahmed Hussen, a Somali Muslim, is Canada's Minister of Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship and is proud that Canada played a leading role in the drafting of the United National Global Migration Compact which makes migration a "human right" and all but eliminates a nation's borders and its ability to decide for itself which refugees and migrants it will accept.

Canada: Community leaders work to head off “anti-Muslim backlash” after terror arrests

Here we go. It happens every time we see when devout Muslims slaughter, maim and mutilate in the cause of Allah, or plot to do so. No recriminations, no calls to examine the ideological roots of the jihad terror. No, we are told we must eradicate any form of opposition to this savagery. The victims are blamed and the Muslim is declared the victim. The unsuspecting public is accused of “fear of reprisals” and calls to “brace for backlash.”

<https://gellerreport.com/2019/01/canada-backlash-arrests.html/>

A terror plot, but all we got from police was hot air by Christie Blatchford

It is entirely reasonable that some matters must remain confidential. But if the police can't or won't say anything substantive, why bother having a press conference? Prime Minister Justin Trudeau warned Canadians: “Anyone who chooses to divide Canadians against each other ... who uses fear and violence to divide us” (by this he meant anyone who utters the M for Muslim word) will fail, Trudeau said, because we are such a resilient people. That we are. Look at the enormous amount of horse manure we allow to be spilled upon us, without complaint.

Social worker from Catholic church that brought accused jihadi into country says arrest a “total shock”

Of course the news of this young Muslim being arrested for a jihad mass murder plot came as a “total shock” to Broniek Korczynski. The church groups that bring Muslim migrants into Canada and the U.S. do so without the slightest concern for the possibility that any of them are or might become jihad terrorists. Even to consider that possibility would be “Islamophobic.”

Liberals write off $163M in student loans feds will never collect

New spending documents show the government is giving up on debts from 31,658 students after “reasonable efforts to collect the amounts owed.” And what about the responsible, grateful students who pay back their loans? Maybe they should apply to the Government to get their money back? Why should they be penalized for their integrity?

Canadians foot the bill for rising asylum claimant costs

Canadians are struggling to make ends meet and, meanwhile, asylum seekers to Canada — including people who came into the country illegally — are being given the royal treatment. Nearly half of all Canadians are less than $200 away from not having enough money to pay their bills. The Trudeau government is going out of its way to accommodate foreigners, and allowing Canada's immigration system to be abused — by allowing tourists to overstay their welcome and rewarding people for crossing into Canada illegally.

Antifa Attacks Hamilton Yellow Vest Protestors

Far left terrorists from Antifa attack a #giletsjaunes #yellowvest protest in Hamilton, Ontario over the weekend. One of the victims, wearing a yellow vest, was violently pushed onto the concrete. A 25-year-old has been charged with assault. RCMP allege the man attacked a Yellow Vest demonstrator with a piece of wood. This isn't the first time Antifa has physically assaulted other protesters. Antifa members has waged attacks across the country, but remarkable, they're often defended in the mainstream media.

C3RF Weekly Update

This week's update notes another year will pass without Canadians having to atone for their systemic, religious discrimination vis-a-vis a "Day of Remembrance and Action on Islamophobia". The split in the Canadian Muslim community, as raised by author Said Shoab, is then reviewed.

Review provides a better understand of the consequences involved in allowing sharia proponents to have all the air time at the expense of those who seek reform within Islam. Petition and rally information embedded in the update. Please distribute far and wide.

Courageous women in the Islamic Republic of Iran are taking off their hijabs as a sign of resistance to the oppressive Sharia regime under which they live, and at least 29 women have been arrested for doing so. Who is standing in solidarity with them? Not the participants in World Hijab Day. No Hijab Day is a needed rejoinder.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH

A Digital Iron Curtain Descends Over the Internet

"An iron curtain has descended across the Continent," Winston Churchill once warned. A digital iron curtain is now descending over the internet. Free speech as we once knew it will be over in a decade. The internet will still be a noisy place, but it will be a managed noise of echo chambers, a moderated system in which dissenting views will be treated as trolling and purged as quickly as they are identified.

How to Lose a Culture War

The owner of a gym in Troy, Missouri recently asked army vet Jake Talbot not to wear his "Trump 2016" shirt to her gym in the future. Will Ms. Drew now prohibit her customers from wearing a crucifix around their necks, should someone complain? Will she ban the display of the American flag because it causes sensitive leftists to suffer the vapors? Such craven groveling before the gods of political correctness is now the rule among the putative guardians of Western civilization

The return of book-burning

Our cultural landscape is increasingly controlled by the permanently outraged. Books – even trashy fantasy novels – are a key component of civilisation. They are tangible, material repositories of humanity, in all its forms. Burning books is the sign of a society going wildly wrong. Banning books, also. Scaring authors into pulling the publication of their books surely sits in the same egregious territory. Nobody has a monopoly on morality and it is gross to try to force writers to comply with your particular worldview.

The Marines testified that a group of 10 to 12 members of the leading left-wing Democrat group Antifa attacked them on the street, calling them "white supremacists," despite their denials that they had no association with the right-wing groups.

While these differences in approach are often said to be indicative of a broader chaos in the movement, all of these experiments should be welcomed. Experimentation is essential in a living, breathing democracy, especially at a time when it is abundantly clear that the current institutions, at the local, national and European level, are failing to give voice to so many.

Is Jerusalem a sacred Islamic City? By Imam Tawhidi

This is a question the majority of Muslims within the political and academic world try to avoid, simply because it opens a rather uncomfortable discussion. In fact, a Muslim asking such a question could face serious consequences; such as society doubting in his/her faith. Until 2014, I was an Islamist who abhorred Jewish people and was open to waging war against them. Today, however, I am friends with many Jewish faith leaders. This transition wasn't political, it was rather theological.

To the FBI, Justice Department prosecutors, and at least one federal judge, the Council on American-Islamic Relations (CAIR) is a dubious organization led by executives tied to a U.S.-based Hamas support network. To social media followers, CAIR officials include rabid anti-Semites – people who baselessly compare Israeli soldiers to ISIS and who endorse slogans calling for Israel's annihilation. ## The Democrats' stealth jihad

America is on a precarious path to lose its freedom and American values we have cherished for over 200 years. We must accept that the current Democratic Party is no longer the party of Kennedy. It has become the greatest threat to our national security and our survival as a nation. For decades, the Democratic Party has shown by both words and deeds that they despise the U.S. Constitution while they bend over backward to embrace Islamists, illegal aliens, and anyone who hates America. The left is interested only in power and nothing else – even if it means to sacrifice our national security and advocate open borders.

Communism Making Comeback as Globalism

The "sudden" infatuation of the West with socialism/communism has been developing over decades as the communists had planned to go underground and rebrand themselves into the global communists of today, championed by the United Nations and "civil society," meaning intellectuals, academics, and other lapdogs of liberalism who advertise and promote everything the U.N. publishes. It is with sadness, agony, and dread that I see daily evidence of Western democracies turning back to the future. Some people never learn from history and must repeat it no matter how disastrous.

In Defense of Western Civilization

All people may be equal, but all cultures are not. The rise of Western civilization has led to the greatest progress in human history. It has given the world democracy, freedom, affluence, equality before the law, the separation of church and state, and the notion of a sovereign state to protect it all. No other civilization on the globe can make that claim. Western civilization is the most prominent civilization because it is better than the others. Yet this point is lost on many of those among us.
