The True Winners of the Election? Third World Canada That's Who

In Justin Trudeau's "post-modern" Canada, a curious phenomenon has worked its way into society. The battle is not between Liberals, Conservatives, NDP and the rest. This battle is much more covert and insidious— that of Globalism versus Nationalism.

Over Trudeau's initial four-year term, Trudeau consistently bashed all Canadians displaying any signs of nationalist sentiment, or signs of pride or patriotism within our traditional Anglophone communities. Conversely— with no mandate from the people, King Justin consistently worked to import, fund and politically empower Third World Canada in an historically unprecedented manner.

Arrogant Prime Minister Justin Trudeau Reduced to Minority Status

Going in, the election was the Conservatives to win. Trailing by the SNC-Lavalin scandal, not to mention all of Trudeau's cringe-worthy costume get-ups and resurrection of his Blackface days, the Liberals should have been easy pickings. But it could be reasonably argued that Scheer spent more time dissing People's Party of Canada (PPC) leader Maxime Bernier, the Conservative who formed his own party when Scheer drove him out of the Conservative Party. Having lost an Election that was theirs to win, it's time for the Conservatives to find a strong leader.

Running Footsteps Heard from Canada: Trudeau Running from The Buffalo Run

With barely time for a last-minute pat down of his hair, Trudeau will now be forced to keep pace with what Canada Free Press (CFP) calls the 'Buffalo Run'. Alberta/Saskatchewan Separation Movement has had it with Trudeau's "Not As Advertised" 'sunny ways', seeing it instead as "Sonny's Way". And SEPARATION by the 'Buffalo Republic' is already underway. Polarization is what Trudeau brought into the Land of the Maple Leaf.

As Western Alienation Surges, Canada Is Weaker Than Ever Before

Like sharks smelling blood, foreign countries and potential enemies can smell weakness. And right now, Canada is incredibly weak. We are weak militarily; we are weak economically and we are weak when it comes to national unity. Any sense of unifying federal Canadian nationalism has been stamped out by the corrupt elites, and that has led to the rise of provincial and regional nationalism, something which was already prevalent in Quebec and is surging in Western Canada. In fact, it's difficult to think of a time when Canada was weaker than it is today.

Western anger was hot before Monday's election. Now it's molten by Rex Murphy

Canadian elections are not about the world. It is not ours to save, or (all deference to Greta the Grinch) to destroy. Canadian elections are about Canada, how to make it better, stronger, more healthful and secure for its citizens. They are — or should be — exercises where party leaders refresh our sense of Canada's aspirations and ideals as a country, a nation.

I rehearse this fragment of background just to hint at the consequences of last night's vote. Things were hot before Monday. Now they are molten. There will not be a single major Western figure in whatever cobbled together coalition comes into being. No Western voice at all. Ontario and Quebec have once again determined who holds the levers of power, and who is left standing in line, or out in the cold altogether.

Canada's Trudeau Will Have to Choose Between Populism and Socialism

Former U.S. Secretary of State Hillary Clinton and Canadian Conservative Party leader Andrew Scheer now have something in common. They can both spend the rest of their lives complaining that they won the popular vote but still lost a national election.

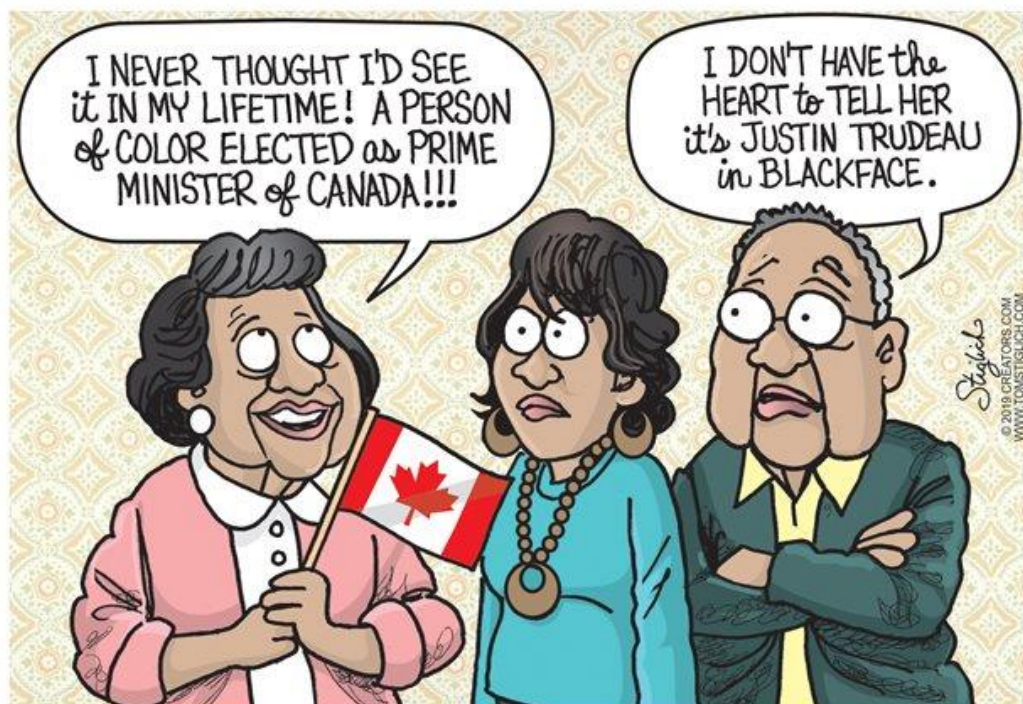

The popular vote shifted right, the left tanked and the populists surged. That's the message Trudeau needs to grasp in order to cobble together a coherent new vision for Canada.

Laurier researchers released voting guide on issues concerning the Canadian Muslim community

The Canadian Islamophobia Industry Research Project, headed by Professor Jasmin Zine, examined the positions of the leaders of the Conservative, Green, Liberal, New Democratic and People's parties on six national and international issues of interest to many members of the Muslim community in Canada. The Canadian Muslim Voting Guide grades leaders as "pass," "fail" or "needs improvement" in each of these areas.

Scheer Genius by Mark Steyn

Andrew Scheer couldn't lay a glove on the guy - notwithstanding that he's micro-managed and minded by some of the sleaziest low-down bare-knuckled dirty-tricksters in Canada, from Hamish Marshall even unto Warren (Catsmeat) Kinsella. These are self-proclaimed mean motherf**kers. But not apparently mammyf**ckers. If you can't make hay while the Sonny Boy shines, what's the point?

If you have been following along with the current events, you would have seen that there was a massive arrest out of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Cameron Ortis was the Director General of the National Intelligence Coordination Centre. Along with his high-ranking position, Ortis' history includes 12 years as a civilian member of the RCMP, having worked in Operations Research and National Security Criminal Investigations. He also had access to the information from allied nations as Canada is part of Five Eyes which is an intelligence sharing alliance between the US, Canada, the United Kingdom, Australia, and New Zealand.

The Absolute State of Canada's Immigration Debate: Faith Goldy Interviews Ricardo Duchesne

The radical left is driving the agenda. And the atmosphere that they have created is one in which if you simply question immigration, question diversity, if you don't agree with bringing in millions and millions of Africans and Muslims and agree that it is enriching the culture in Canada, you are a neo-Nazi and you should be monitored and targeted. Anti.Hate's Bernie Farber and Evan Balgord want to turn Canada into a Police state.

Today, Yaniv was ordered to pay a small financial remedy to the women he dragged into this frivolous and vindictive lawfare. ## C3RF Update – 25 October 2019

C3RF Update - 25 Oct, 2019 analyses the results of election 2019 in light of the related "ballot-box" question. Was it "climate change" as the Liberal, NDP, Green and Media parties tried to make it be or was it something inclusive of "climate change" but more expansive? Something along the lines of a U.N. Agenda 2030 that mandates nations forego sovereign control over energy and migration to save the planet and spread the hurt respectively. Seen in this light, Alberta and Saskatchewan went 100% "blue" to stave off the phasing out of its fossil fuel industries in the name of "climate change" while Quebec raised the sovereigntist Bloc Quebecois party from the dead to shield its culture, language and way of life from unfettered, global migration. Lacking a federal government that stands for Canadian national interests as a first priority, is it any surprise that regions are coming forward to protect their own?

GLOBALISM

We Don't Want Globalist Government

Globalists think that the answer to every human problem lies in government -- and the bigger the government, the better. Why stop at federal legislation and federal courts when you can push for international legislation and international courts? Not only does this remove the Average Joe's control over his own life but also it creates the potential for so much delicious power.

Hillary Clinton is a globalist to the marrow of her bones. People were distressed that Clinton had a stranglehold on the Democratic National Committee in 2016? That was penny ante poker, folks. President Hillary Clinton would be the best friend of the U.N. and the EU and the International Court of Justice. In Clinton's worldview, only a handful of people are brilliant enough to rule the world -- she's one of them. If the "little people" dare to want to run their own lives, they're "deplorables."

CAIR, SPLC pressure Mar-a-Lago to drop 'hate group' events as conservatives push back

Less than two weeks after the leftist groups, CAIR and the SPLC pressured Mar-a-Lago to cancel a booking for an ACT for America gala featuring conservative pundit Michelle Malkin, the resort has come under pressure to scrap the annual banquet of the Center for Security Policy, another conservative national security organization listed by the SPLC as a "hate group."

It's Back On: Christian Ministry Appeals 'Hate Group' Defamation Lawsuit Against SPLC

In addition to the Christian ministry D. James Kennedy Ministries (DJKM) and Maajid Nawaz, the Center for Immigration Studies (CIS), Proud Boys founder Gavin McInnes, Baltimore lawyer Glen Keith Allen, and former heroin addict Craig Nelsen have sued the SPLC for defamation and various other claims. The CIS lawsuit was struck down because it attempted to shoehorn a defamation claim into racketeering, but it will likely be re-filed. Mat Staver, founder and chairman of Liberty Counsel, a Christian non-profit branded a "hate group" by the SPLC, told PJ Media that more than 60 organizations are considering their own lawsuits against the SPLC.

Becoming what we fear and hate

Supposed anti-fascist forces utilize fascist tactics in their fights. People decry others as Nazis while emulating Nazi methods. Corrupt politicians fight corruption with corrupt practices. People think the path to non-discrimination is through targeted discrimination and the most effective way to secure individual freedom is to initiate total control over the lives of every citizen.

Arrest or Death? Will Le Figaro's Yves Threard face Blasphemy Charges?

The most dangerous and politically incorrect statements came when Yves Threard boldly declared, "There is no such thing as Islamophobia. I hate the Muslim religion. I'll say it". And Threard still maintained his strong opposition to the wearing of the Islamic veils in France:

"I repeat that we can not join one or the other of these religions – that's not my case, but what I do not like is the religious excesses. sectarian excesses (...) I'm sorry (...) but for me, the wearing of the veil, the abaya, the burkini, are militant signs and ideological artifices. These signs, no, I do not do not accept them and I will not accept them in France."

Switzerland has suffered no significant terror attacks; but it has not been spared the damages of radical Islam. As the media have focused on the countries where terrorism has taken lives and shattered communities, the world has largely overlooked the other, more insidious dangers of radical Islamist and Salafist ideology in countries like Switzerland, whose military and political neutrality puts the lie to theories that radicalization is a response to Western military attacks on the Middle East.

UK: Muslim cleric's banned jihad terror group has revived and is holding meetings again

No surprise here. The British authorities are too busy monitoring and restricting the activities of Tommy Robinson and his supporters to care about this. They have made their choice: they are determined to avoid offending Muslims and so do as little as they possibly can to impede jihad terror plotting. And they will reap the consequences of their choice: enabling and encouraging jihad will get them more jihad.

Chick-Fil-A expelled from England

The Left is no longer content with soft tyranny. Its tactics are metastasizing, becoming ever more vulgar, aggressive, violent. Whether taking people's "MAGA" hats and lighting them on fire or urinating on them as in Minneapolis; chasing Trump officials and supporters out of restaurants and public places in cities across the country; or threatening them with bodily harm or incarceration as Hollywood types, "entertainers," and progressive politicians have done, progressives are proving that they are intolerant, close-minded, bigoted, and fond of fascist propaganda and tactics.

Last week, U.S. Attorney General William Barr told a University of Notre Dame Law School audience that attacks on religious liberty have contributed to a moral decline that's in part manifested by increases in suicides, mental illness and drug addiction. their allies have marshaled all the forces of mass communication, popular culture, the entertainment industry, and academia in an unremitting assault on religion and traditional values."

His physical appearance was not as shocking as his mental deterioration. When asked to give his name and date of birth, he struggled visibly over several seconds to recall both. ### Ribat: The Truth Behind "Muslim Enclaves"

In Islamic history, the ribat referred to the chains of jihadi fortresses erected along and dedicated to raiding the borders of non-Muslims. Why does this history lesson matter? Because in many respects, the Muslim enclaves and "no-go" zones that proliferate throughout the West function as embryonic ribats: hotbeds of radicalization and jihadi activities targeting their immediate infidel neighbors—that is, their European host societies.

If Islam continues to grow in the West, and if Western peoples continue to retreat (in a myriad of ways), it is only a matter of time before the West's many Muslim enclaves evolve into their most natural forms: ribats dedicated to waging full-blown jihad on their infidel neighbors—a scenario that makes the fall of the Islamic State's last ribat in Syria pale in significance.

It's Time to Call out the United Nations' Organisation of Islamic Cooperation (OIC)

The OIC has sadly escaped scrutiny for their ridiculous partisan reports that are clearly political in nature. They echo the official narrative from the European Union (EU) and the UN that "Islamophobia" is on the rise, which is obviously their vehicle to press ahead with their ongoing open borders agenda. Cries of "Islamophobia" are designed to intimidate anyone who attempts to address the very real threat that fundamentalist Islamic ideology and relentless unchecked migration have on the West.

UK: That Muslim Gang Attack on Those Non-Muslim Tree Surgeons

You can imagine what those Muslims were thinking. How dare those "white bastards" think they have a right to even be in Rochdale Road, in our territory? What's this? They're just doing their job? So what? "It's their country, too." No, it isn't. The U.K. is now our country, it belongs to us, the "best of peoples," and not to the Infidels, the Kuffar, the "most vile of all created beings." This is our territory. We can't – yet – claim the whole country, but we can claim our neighborhood, and within a few years all of Newbold, and much of Manchester itself will be a place where Kuffars will know who is boss. We go to Pakistan and bring back wives, and relatives. And then their relatives come. We have big families. We take the Jizyah Seeker's Allowance. No one can stop us.

This is what is coming our way. And for publishing such articles as a dire warning, we are called racists, bigots, haters and Islamophobes.

Shockingly, British Muslims posted a change.org petition demanding that the BBC remove the documentary, claiming that it is disrespectful to Shia Muslims and that it will spread Islamophobia. ### The Death of a Soldier by Mark Steyn

Corporal Cirillo died on October 22nd 2014, five years ago today. A man who wore the uniform of his regiment with pride, he might have expected to stare death in the face in Afghanistan or some other thankless piece of barbarous sod. Instead, he was gunned down on Wellington Street by Michael Zehaf-Bibeau. I got angrier as the day went on. I suggested that Ottawa and New York and London are the real battlefields the jihad's playing for, not some godforsaken patch of Yemeni desert or a smelly cave in Waziristan.
