

“The Enlightenment, coming after the Inquisition, was fundamentally about insisting that people should not be punished for what they believe or say. As John Locke argued in his 1689 ‘Letter Concerning Toleration’, no man should be attacked by ‘fire or sword’ for what lurks in his mind.”

Forget the cabinet shuffle. What Trudeau needs is an attitude change by Rex Murphy

Your assignment is Canada. Strike a new attitude. Canada, its provinces and regions, its industries and well-being, nourishing the national temperament — is your principal and only concern. And considering the country is in one of its most fractured moments, that it is subject to tensions and rivalries and interprovincial disputes, and with a Parliament that is more like an unfinished jigsaw puzzle than a reflection of a country united in most matters that count, you have a major task before you.

Canada's PM Trudeau stands shoulder to shoulder with Iran, North Korea, despots and human rights abusers.

The recently re-elected Prime Minister of Canada, Justin Trudeau, has aligned Canada with autocrats, despots and human right abusers. He is standing shoulder to shoulder with Iran and North Korea against Israel, the only democracy in the Middle East, the only Jewish state with 7 million Jews, half of the world Jewish population, in a world of 193 countries, 23 of which are Muslim-only failed states with 230 Muslim citizens, surrounding her. He stands for another Muslim state on more land that legally and historically belongs to Israel.

“Canadian Defenders of Human Rights” claims that rabbis who support Israel are a “danger” to Canada

While Israel defends itself from obliteration as a stated goal by the Palestinian Authority, Hamas, Fatah, and the PLO, the Canadian organization Canadian Defenders For Human Rights (CD4HR) — led by Aliya Hasan and Firas Al Najim — posted a series of hateful tirades against Toronto rabbi Mendel Kaplan, the founder and spiritual leader of Chabad @ Flamingo in Thornhill and has called Israeli Defense Forces a “war criminal army,” and referred to Israel as the “Zionist illegitimate regime occupying holy Palestine.”

Obama and the Democrats have taught their protégé, Trudeau and the Liberal party, well

Deferred prosecutions are dangerous. Now a look at the SNC Lavalin case in Canada. This is why, no matter what the reason, there should be no avenue for a deferred prosecution and isn't it merely Barack Obama showing Justin Trudeau how to make something unlawful lawful? We must remember the illegal donations made by SNC to the Liberal Party⁷ so one can only speculate as to what other gifts might be involved, couldn't one?

McKenna and SNC-Lavalin traveled to China to help communist country continue to use coal

In December 2017, McKenna brought an entourage to China as part of a "cleantech mission composed of companies that can help bring solutions to some of China's most acute environmental challenges." McKenna's entourage didn't go to China to help the country get off coal. They went to help China stay on coal using Canadian technology, while McKenna spearheaded the phase-out of coal in Canada.

Pimps spared prison, judge strikes down mandatory minimum sentence for trafficking minors

In a rare ruling, an Ottawa judge has spared two pimps, Amina Ahmed, 33, and Nadia Ngoto, 36, the mandatory minimum prison term for human trafficking involving minors, calling it cruel and unusual punishment as the pimps only groomed their teenage victims for the sex trade, and had not yet fully exploited them.

The Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)

From one of our members:

“This is the official document. It shocked me because I have witnessed some redevelopments in Ottawa and asked what idiot would ever think of laying out roads that way and taking away parking. The answer is clear...UN Agenda 21 Sustainable Development Goals. I had no idea that this was already so entrenched in Ottawa. Thank you again for alerting me to the extent to which we have been subverted and undermined. ”

C3RF Update – 22 November 2019

This week's update moves beyond the analysis of the "Red/ Green" alliance's march through Canada's institutions to embrace it as a fact demonstrated by attacks on Remembrance Day, Don Cherry and hockey in general. This brazen behaviour is aided and abetted by the five "P" agencies who, ironically, are sworn to defend and preserve the values, traditions and institutions common to all Canadians. The update closes with a call for these same citizens to engage in their own defense of these entities by petitioning Rogers Sportsnet to apologize for their abysmal treatment of Don Cherry.

THE ENVIRONMENT

Global warming, mental illness, and Saint Greta

While Greta's mother Melania Ernman was trekking about the world to applause and acclaim on the opera stage, Greta was home without a mother in a morally bankrupt Sweden. This unbalanced Greta. Clearly, as the West abandons God and religion as outmoded concepts, many more people will become lost and adrift in the valueless societies. Mental illness of one type or another has to follow, with current examples being gender confusion, Trump Derangement Syndrome, global warming, and the embrace of socialism.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH

Burning American Flags is Free Speech; Burning Gay Pride Flags is a Hate Crime

The burning of an American flag may even be quite lucrative, as in the case of Revolutionary Communist Party member Gregory L. Johnson, who received a $225,000 settlement from the city of Cleveland in June after he successfully argued that police officers violated his First Amendment rights by using fire extinguishers to put out an American flag he was burning outside the Republican National Convention in 2016 in protest of "American imperialism and inequality".

Douglas Murray is a writer who says what the rest of us would like to by Barbara Kay

This new religion gives permission to those of "oppressed" status — women, people of colour, indigenous peoples, LGBTQ — to hate their oppressors: heterosexual white men, racists, transphobics. (Gay himself, Murray refuses to play the LGBTQ card as the sole, or even most important marker of his humanity.) For many unlucky people, a silly joke tweeted, an incorrect opinion on Facebook or an inadvertently touched knee can be the kiss of death to career and reputation. Murray provides plenty of examples of good people cut down without mercy — indeed with unseemly relish — by relentlessly vigilant activists.

The 'Thought Police' Come to Norway by Bruce Bawer

Benedicte Bjørnland, director of the national police, actually stated that while Norwegians enjoy freedom of speech and assembly, there are limits to those rights. Indeed, pronounced Bjørnland, for the police to be too eager in their protection of these freedoms can be "counterproductive." She went on to describe herself and her department as striking a "balance" between protecting and limiting those rights. "We are not a Thought Police," she maintained, "but we do issue guidelines, and when we see violations of our guidelines, we intervene." Puzzle over that one, if you will.

Machiavelli, Calumny and Free Speech on Campus

I wouldn't go so far as to say that our universities lie in ruins, but one of the consequences of the cavalier attitude to accusation on campus is that universities—faculties of arts in particular—are failing in their mission to be places of free inquiry and debate about important moral and political issues. By and large, I agree with Deresiewicz and many others who claim that tertiary education institutions are becoming places of suppression and indoctrination in the new secular religion.

Putting the thought police on trial

We need to repeal all legislation that criminalises speech, whether it is public-order laws, communications laws or hate speech-laws. And we need to throw out the police's ludicrous guidance on hate incidents. In a liberal society, citizens should be free to express themselves however they see fit. The consequences of offensive or abusive speech should be criticism, protest, counter-argument and ridicule. To investigate, arrest and prosecute people simply for speaking their minds is the behaviour of a police state.

PERSECUTED CHRISTIANS

The "Great Pleasure in Destroying Christians": The Persecution of Christians, September 2019

Canada's Immigration and Refugee Board sought to deport a refugee family — a mother and three children — that had fled their native country of Nigeria after they were attacked and threatened with death for leaving Islam and converting to Christianity. "They face a 'fatwa' (a pronouncement of death) against them for converting to Christianity from Islam. They believe they face certain death if they are returned to Nigeria. They are quite fearful."

AROUND THE WORLD

CHINA

China's Holocaust of Children

The 'one-child policy' involved slaughtering hundreds of millions of babies. Chinese officials would use a variety of pressures to prevent women from giving birth. Sometimes sterilization would be presented simply as an option; you were free to refuse, but then the authorities would burn your house down or steal your pig. Other times women underwent sterilization by force, or suffered as their eight- and nine-month-old fetuses were aborted. A single "family planning" official recalls carrying out an estimated 50,000 to 60,000 sterilizations and abortions, sometimes inducing delivery and then killing the newborn.

FRANCE

France is target of more Islamic jihad attacks than any other EU state, French Leftists denounce "Islamophobia"

More of the Left's addiction to fantasy over reality: "France's systematic, state-sanctioned abuse of Muslims makes them feel rejected, threatened, and disenfranchised. The brutality of the hostility they encounter, whether physical or ideological, sets a standard for how the French ruling class responds to other groups it sees as a political threat..."

HONG KONG

The Hong Kong Teaching Moment

Isn't it interesting that while Democrats here in the United States denigrate our flag and the values it stands for in their quest to install a socialist as president, people on the other side of the world are risking everything to be free from their socialist regime and holding high the red, white, and blue?

ISRAEL

About Time by Valerie Sobel

We are all aware of what transpired this week. Not referring to the galactic widening of sclera around Schiff's pupils as he presides over his Kangaroo court, but to the Trump administration's historic affirmation of Israel's "settlements" in the "West Bank" being consistent with international law. As if on cue and pained by the sting of a thousand bees, the Union for Reform Judaism (URJ, Jewish Reformist Movement) raced the clock to beat out Israel-loving Tlaib/Omar/Sanders/Sarsour Democratic Party to impeach Trump's verdict first. The first natural question that begs asking is: Why would any Jew condemn an American policy for the benefit of a Jewish State, a gesture of extraordinary support of Israel that immediately corrects historical wrongs?

SWEDEN

Muslim AK-47s and Bombings Turn Sweden Into War Zone

Europe's open infrastructure, its rejection of national and regional borders, has worsened the problem. From the mass flow of migrants from Muslim countries to the ease with which Muslim gang members move between European countries, the lack of border security has made the conquest of Europe easy. The growing linkages between Muslim gangs across national borders is a warning of worse to come.

UNITED KINGDOM

The Human Tragedy of the Victims of Muslim Rape Gangs

The grooming, rape, beating, and trafficking of young white girls in the UK coupled with death threats is a pattern that Muslims follow the length of the country from Glasgow to Bristol. If something is a pattern, then it's not random. Scientists (depending on the project), physicists, and astronomers look for patterns in order to prove their theories and to predict the behaviour of any particular organism, or equation, or planetary body. The rapes committed by Muslim men is a pattern unlike anything the West has ever seen, and the carnage provides the data that lays the blame at the feet of Muslim men. The obsession with virginal underage white girls drives them to commit atrocities that should have been resigned to the Medieval period, or confined in and contained to the barbaric lands of their birth.

Another Un-Civil Case with Huge Costs

Tommy Robinson is perhaps the most persecuted and prosecuted man in the United Kingdom. He is persecuted because he dares to report the other side of the story. Tommy speaks truth to power and stands up for the forgotten men, women and children of our Nation. He now faces another un-civil case with HUGE costs! The government and lawyers with extremist sympathies know that if they can't keep Tommy in prison, they can break him financially with civil cases.

UK: Judge attacks "abhorrent" foster parents for serving bacon to children taken from "abusive Muslim household"

"A judge has expressed her 'abhorrence' at foster parents caring for children taken from an abusive Muslim household, because they Westernised and ate bacon. Increasingly, the Western legal system is metamorphosing into a Sharia system, with little resistance. It has become increasingly common for non-Muslims in the United Kingdom to be essentially forced to eat halal meat, slaughtered in accordance with Islamic religious principles which many non-Muslims object to for ethnical [sic] reasons.

Chick-fil-A Put an Obama and Hillary Supporter in Charge, but Dumped Christians

Charity helps people. Corporate social responsibility is virtue signaling by capitalists to anti-capitalists. Unlike charity, corporate social responsibility isn't about helping people, but ticking off ideological and identity politics boxes like diversity and the environment. If people accidentally get helped in the process of helping a corporation signal its membership in the politically correct creed, that can't be helped.

Boston Marathon Bomber's Friend Confessed to 2011 Triple Murder Before Being Killed

A newly released affidavit provides significant new details about an unsolved 2011 murder connected to Boston Marathon bomber Tamerlan Tsarnaev. How China Is Slowly Becoming the World's Largest Imperialist Power

Kenya is apparently under pressure to hand over its busy and lucrative Port of Mombasa to Chinese companies, as it fails to repay debts owed to China. Previously, Sri Lanka had to cede control of its Hambantota Port to China, as it failed to demonstrate its capability of repaying debts to Beijing in what is now termed "debt-trap" diplomacy.

In other parts of Africa, such as Uganda and Zambia, China is now in an asset-buying spree. China is not just demonstrating its ambitions in Africa. In Europe, countries like Serbia, Italy, and Greece, not to mention Germany, have become gateways for Chinese investment — investment that could easily transform to debt trap and even security risks.

Pope Signs Pact with Muslims Pushing One-World Religion

The prophet Muhammad was a violent warrior who promoted conquest, had multiple wives, and killed Jews and Christians – referring to them as infidels and sworn enemies. Look it up. Jesus was a sinless, spiritual leader who laid down His life to save mankind, said “Father, forgive them” to those that crucified Him’ Jesus never killed anyone. Muhammad too, was a spiritual leader, who became a political leader, a liar, and a violent military leader. Christ ruled by peace while Muhammad ruled largely by the sword.

Muslim Brotherhood Subversion vs. Jihadist Rage

Yes, but there's something else, something more subtle, that binds them: they all began their careers as members of the Muslim Brotherhood, the oldest and most widespread political Islamic organization in the world.

The migration debate isn't really about migrants

The east-west divide on migration speaks to far more fundamental anxieties. Migration has come to embody a clash between two incompatible ways of seeing the world. To put it crudely, Western moralism is poised against an Eastern sense of victimhood. This has hugely deepened the divide between east and west. It has created a political right in the east that runs national governments that feel they are the most oppressed minority in the history of the world. It allows politicians like Victor Orbán and Matteo Salvini to be in opposition to the world instead of behaving like responsible statesmen.

The Duplicitous Game of Critique

When it came to the great movements of multiculturalism, diversity, tolerance, and inclusion, progressives didn't mean it. Critique-of-thee-but-not-of-me . . . that was the tactic. Any conservative who doesn't get that diversity-tolerance-inclusion is a dishonest power play, not a call for openness and fairness, is a fool.
