Chinese envoy says Canada's acceptance of Hong Kong refugees jeopardizes Canadians in former British colony

China's ambassador to Canada is urging Ottawa to stop granting asylum to democracy activists from Hong Kong, whom he described as violent criminals, and warned that accepting these people could jeopardize the "health and safety" of 300,000 Canadians who live in the former British colony. Former Liberal justice minister Irwin Cotler, who is supporting these calls to action, described China as now the greatest threat to the international legal order.

The Politicization of the Coronavirus

Instead of making decisions that benefit all Canadians, politicians in Canada are basing their public health decisions on the latest polls and on what they think will help them get re-elected. These are unprecedented times. Does old-style political strategy really matter right now? True North's Anthony Furey says Canadian politicians can learn a thing or two from Winston Churchill.

Vaudreuil-Dorion residents call for referendum on mosque's plan to move

More than 150 residents have opposed a local mosque's plan to move in Vaudreuil-Dorion, forcing the city to hold a referendum on the project before it can proceed. Residents against the project told the Montreal Gazette this week they fear the mosque would increase noise and traffic in their neighbourhood. They also raised questions of secularism and took issue with the mosque's prayer schedule. To appease residents, the city had already barred the centre from adding any religious flags or loudspeakers to the building's exterior.

WE charity motion censored after abrupt ending by liberal chair

A House of Commons finance committee motion where MPs were set to vote on a motion on the WE Charity scandal has disappeared. According to Conservative MP Pierre Poilievre, a recording of Thursday's meeting vanished from the Parliamentary telescreen along with the motion as well. On Thursday, Liberal MP and chair Wayne Easter allegedly muted and ended a Zoom meeting just as Poilievre had put forward a motion to remove redactions from a document disclosure on WE Charity documents.

The minority Liberals are outvoted on committees when the opposition works together. In this case, the Conservatives, NDP and Bloc Québécois are all in agreement that they deserve more disclosure around the WE controversy — especially because they were on the verge of getting it in August when Prime Minister Justin Trudeau prorogued Parliament for a month. So, they responded with the only arrow in their quiver: a filibuster

Insurrection and Violence: A citizen's Guide by Stephen Coughlin

This book is a guide for all citizens that are concerned with the chaos and violence occurring on the streets of America, regardless of political outlook. Though much of the violence clearly has political intent and purpose, that is outside the scope of this study. The goal – to explain the violence, who is perpetrating it, and how to avoid becoming a victim, sounds simple enough. However, this is a very dynamic situation, the amount of information available is immense, and much of it is opinion disguised as the truth. To help with this task, the writers consulted with experienced and proven analysts on intelligence, crime, politics, revolutionary warfare, history, survival, and trauma medicine. They did a remarkable job separating fact from perception, assessing the inexplicable, and delivering it concisely. It serves well as a handbook for the average American. If you disagree with the assessment of the situation presented early in the book, stay the course; and take a close look at Chapters 3 and 4. Here, you will find valuable information designed to keep you and your loved ones safe.

How a Biden win could get America the conservative president it needs by Barbara Kay

For four years the leftie extremists have had Trump as a convenient magnetic pole for all their grievance filings. Let Biden win, and then the Democrats must own their own crazies. The internal battles for the soul of the party will be fascinating to watch. I for one confess to a thrill of Schadenfreude in anticipation of the gladiatorial argle-bargle we are likely to witness between the Menscheviks and the Wokesheviks in the blood-spattered arena of the Biden/Harris Coliseum. In four years' time, many horrified moderate Dems will be eager to entertain the prospect of a conservative, but non-ideological Republican president.

How Big Tech is fixing the election by Douglas Murray

It is conceivable that Twitter might rightfully act if there were knowingly false information being disseminated ahead of an election by obscure or unknown actors seeking to affect an election. But it is quite another thing for the social media giant to decide that the reposting of a story in the New York Post—one of America's oldest and most venerable papers, founded by Alexander Hamilton—should be cause to suppress the speech of the White House Press Secretary. This is not an attempt to prevent interference in an election—it is itself interference in an election. Interference carried out by Facebook and Twitter, tech giants and monopolies in possession of unprecedented amounts of power.

Sanders in order to implant their exquisitely easy-to-manipulate candidate of choice: Joe Biden.

A Judge Filled With Love For Humanity

A Christian wife and mother with pro-family views, federal Judge Amy Coney Barrett is an example of how light can survive the darkness of America's descent into demonic corruption so deep that it includes the dismemberment of live babies to harvest their body parts. As long as America can produce women who love their families and children, there is hope. President Trump's nomination of Judge Barrett to the Supreme Court is enough to consider his legacy one of true conservatism. It's now up to the Senate to confirm her.

FBI Has Had Hunter's Hard Drive Since Last December

Attorney Robert Costello confirmed the explosive revelations, first reported by the New York Post, that an Apple MacBook Pro alleged to have

Now, Dr. Yan has published her second scientific article "SARS-CoV-2 Is an Unrestricted Bioweapon: A Truth Revealed through Uncovering a Large-Scale, Organized Scientific Fraud," which describes the extraordinary lengths the Chinese Communist Party has gone to cover-up the true laboratory origin of the COVID-19 virus in order to escape responsibility for the pandemic.

The daily coronavirus reports have become the equivalent of Soviet harvest reports. They sound impressive, mean absolutely nothing, and are the pet obsession of a bureaucracy that not only has no understanding of the problem, but its grip on power has made it the problem. The smarter medical professionals understand that the theories have failed, while the administrators who put the theories into practice confused their system with science. The politicians listen to the administrators and when they tell us to trust the science, they mean the bureaucracy. The medical professionals can't and won't backtrack now. It's too late.

In an era in which every dubious decision is "due to COVID-19," we hear policymakers repeating the same mantra: "If just one life is saved," it's worth relinquishing our freedoms, our sanity, and possibly our future. Perhaps these people have nothing to lose. For those of us who do, a cautious but deliberate path toward herd immunity offers a sane alternative to perpetual neurotic terror. The question is whether most Americans have the will and the courage to risk their sense of security to maintain enduring liberty.

BLACK LIVES MATTER

Race, Revolution, and the Chinese Communist Party

Despite the careful appearance of an organic, spontaneous movement, the BLM-led riots on the streets are anything but random. Even aside from the openly symbiotic alignment along Maoist lines, the level of coordination at both the local and national levels for what is clearly a communist insurrection bespeaks of extensive organization, preparation, as well as ongoing backing, funding, and support. The evidence presented here only skims the surface of what increasingly looks like massive intrusion by a hostile foreign power into American society. That hostile foreign power is not Russia. It's China.

How China funds and organizes riots and civil unrest in America

China's Belt and Road Initiative (BRI) reach is vast, and, although it lacks transparency, a common estimate is that it incorporates 38 countries in sub-Saharan Africa, 25 East Asia and Pacific countries, 17 nations in the Middle East and North Africa, 18 Latin American and Caribbean sovereignties, 6 Southeast Asia countries, and even 38 European and Central Asian countries including 18 E.U. members. I also remember having the impression that, even if you disagreed with them on some issues, at least they were ideologically consistent, which meant that they were principled.
